

REMINISCENCE

For the last time

I walk down this street

And look up to see these trees

With their gay spring dresses,

Or watch that squirrel scamper across a path,

Or that fish slide through a sunlit brook.

For the last time

I look upon this school, as one removed,

And glance upon these faces,

Behind me, on the side, in front . . .

The smiles . . . the frowns . . .

The instant reactions, the minutes and seconds

That will never occur again . . .

For the first and last time

I realize that never again will anything be the Same—

No matter what appears on the surface,

Underneath, there will be change.

And no matter how long or how short my absence,

Time will change all . . .

And no one can stop Time.*

Go Anne,
 Wasn't Chemistry class been something else? Mr. Weinbender's tests were murder, but we pulled through. Unknowns - oh, they were riots (Ha!). I hope you're in some of my classes next year. We could have riots together. Good luck!

Go Anne! We
 sure got a bum deal when Mr. L. left. Oh, well it was nice to have him while we could. I wonder if we'll ever have a test on W.W.II. Hope to see you a lot this summer (sure you can't help out at Bible school) and next year at the new school.
 Best wishes,

Central Was, Is, and Shall Be

The school year of 1966-1967 has been an eventful one. The traditional events, Fall Festival, Sophomore Party, Sock Hop, TWIRP, Alumni Dance, and many others have taken place with their natural success. New acquaintances have been made, some friendships have broken up, tests have been passed, and flunked. And we have learned a great deal, both from books, and from experiencing all that we have done. If we did not learn chemistry, at least we learned perseverance.

In an obvious manner, this past year has been unique. For this is the last year of Central as we know it. Progress was necessary in LaCrosse and we finally were allocated the funds for the new school. We now have that school. It is new and anticipating occupancy. For the seniors it was a special year. We were the last senior class before the transition. For the underclassmen it will be a new and exciting move. It is only fitting that we pay a special tribute to our school by showing Central as it was, is, and shall be . . . always . . .

Tó

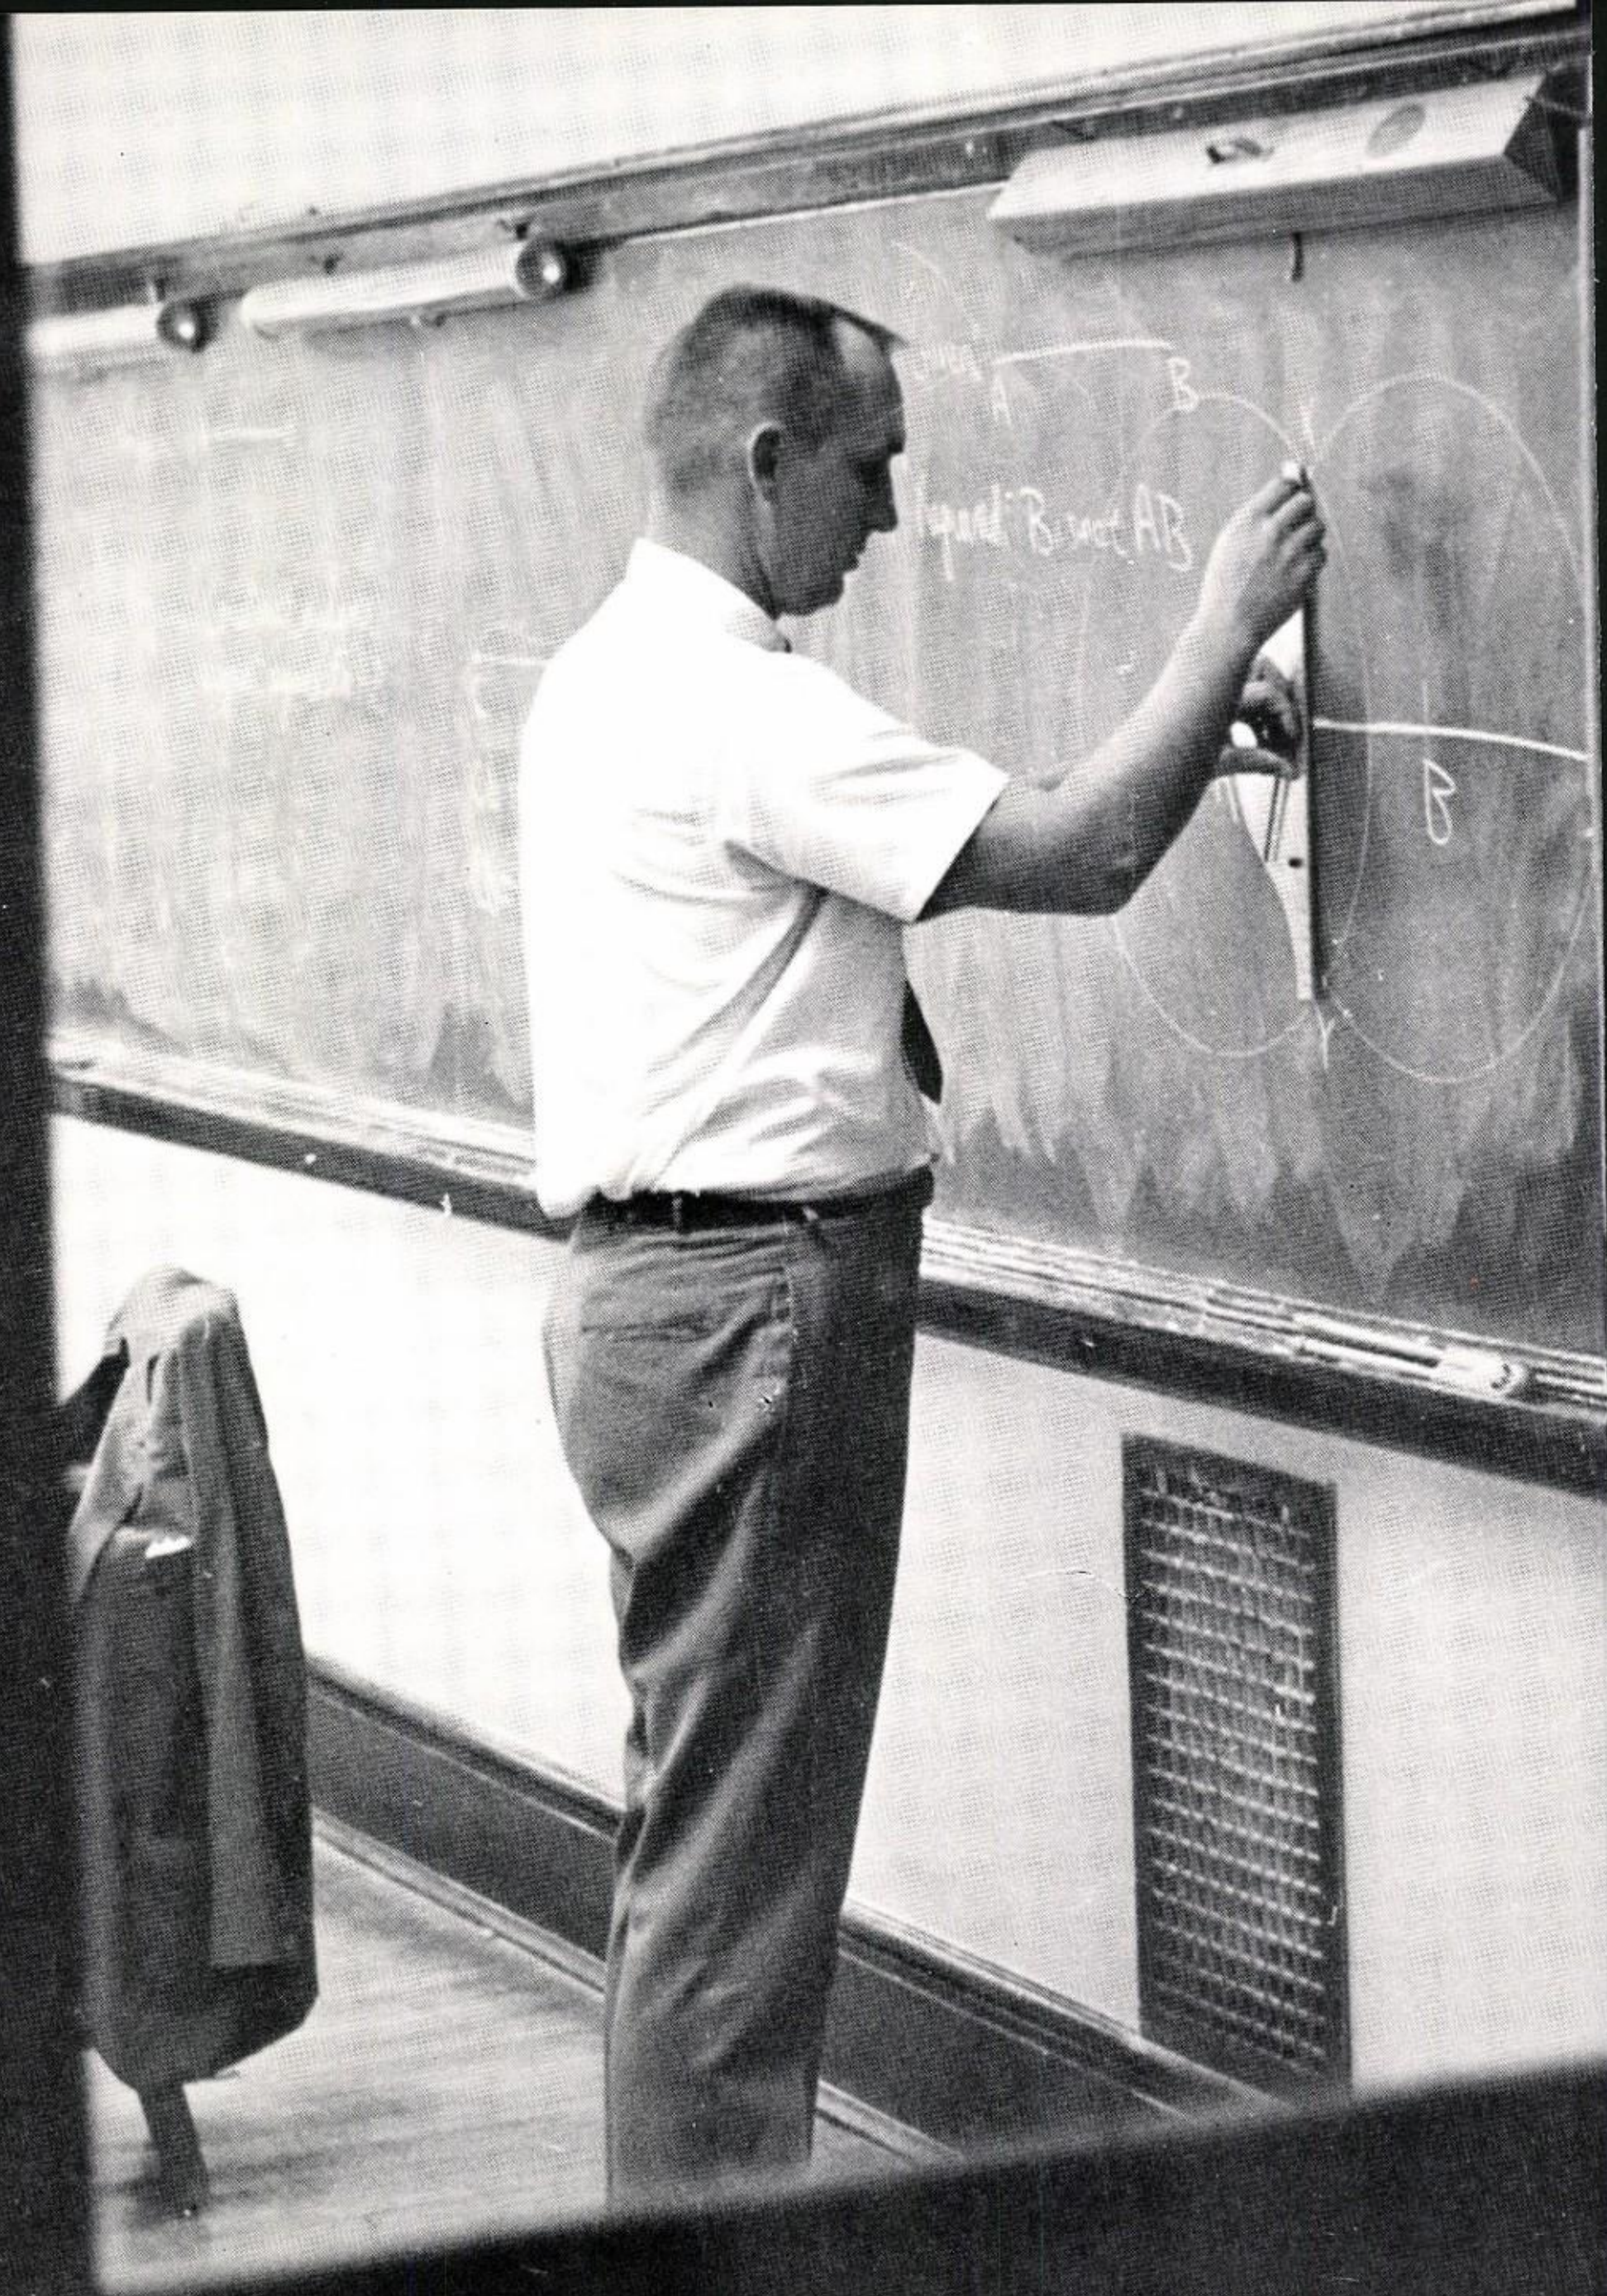

The construction of Central was begun August 31, 1905, and completed in January, 1907. For the past sixty years many people, students and faculty, have spent a portion of their lives within these walls. Some faculty members stayed for as long as forty years; others stayed for only a year. But they performed a vital part of making Central what it was. Many calibres of students attended Central. Some merely went through their three years and received their diplomas; others contributed a great deal of their time in extra-curricular as well as curricular activities. Without the diversity of personalities the school would not have been what it was.

Us

It took all kinds to make Central, all of which were necessary elements. The parents were important in Central's development in a less obvious but still vital means. By raising their children the way they did, the parents helped determine the advancement. And the city of LaCrosse helped. The increases and decreases of the city's economic and cultural lives were influential in the pattern. Without any of these elements, Central High School would never have become what it did. Because 1967 is a year of such change, I dedicate the 1967 Booster to everyone who has had a part in Central's growth, to the faculty, students, parents, and LaCrosse ... We dedicate to ourselves ...

plans, these years seem to go faster all the time. This English class really was fun.

Go Anne, this year just and history well, this year just and history about come to an end us. I but our guys will be leaving Mr. 1, but class wasn't bad with things difficult and hope the sure made fun this summer especially tests. Have fun around.

P.S. Be good to DAVE.
Yanme.

Remember all those speeches and reading we had to do. Maybe next year will be in some more classes.

Forty-three Years of Service

For Theodora Taras, teaching was a challenging occupation which has been interesting and rewarding to her. Miss Taras retired this year after forty-three years of teaching.

She received her B.A. degree at Lawrence University in Appleton, Wisconsin. She has since attended summer school at the University of Wisconsin at Madison, the University of Cincinnati, and Middlebury College in Vermont.

Miss Taras, who taught Latin and German, previously taught English and history. In addition to teaching she has been associated with Junior Classical League, Studio Flott, and Circle.

During the war Miss Taras drove a taxi and drove trucks for a canning company. In her spare time she enjoyed crocheting as well as studying the German Language. She furthered her study of the German culture by collecting record albums and enjoying the German type of music.

Miss Taras, German and Latin teacher, realizes the importance of a tape recorder in the advancement of languages. With the use of the tape recorder, she prepares her classes' lessons.

Typing and Testing

The Guidance Department at Central served many useful purposes this year. Help and advice were given to sophomores, juniors, and seniors on what courses to take not only in Central, but in college. In addition to aiding students in choosing the correct college, information on scholarships was made available and tests were administered. In cooperation with the State Employment Service, assistance was given in part-time job placement. College and occupational counseling was also provided. The counselors also helped students cope with personal and social problems.

The secretaries handled the mechanics of the school. They enrolled new students and took care of the students who withdrew. Failure slips, report cards, and office correspondence were typed up and mailed. Transcripts of students' grades were also sent to colleges. As the contact between the teachers and students, the secretaries typed announcements, athletic department reports, and the schedules and dates for sporting events.

Guidance counselor Mr. Bell explains entrance requirements for Carleton College to senior Bill Melby, as Bill is considering entering Carleton.

Guidance secretary Mrs. Nebel cheerfully hands junior Rolf Gundersen some information of the P.S.A.T. which he will soon take under the direction of the guidance counselors.

English, required of each student was important to every person no matter what his position would be in life. With varied projects for each grade, students were taught the basics of grammar, speech, and literature. While sophomores wrote their autobiographies and learned of the trials and tribulations of David Copperfield and Julius Caesar, the juniors worked hard preparing their Junior Ex. speeches. The seniors ended their final year at Central with term papers dealing with their future occupations.

Central's Foreign Language Department played an important role in the broadening of our student's cultural background. In addition to the satisfaction derived from learning to communicate in a foreign language, the study of another language usually acquainted the student with the people who spoke the language. They came to know their art, history, and literature. Central offered a choice of four foreign languages: Latin, French, Spanish, and German.

The study of history will always be important not only for understanding the past and the present, but also for learning to solve the problems of the future. Central's History Department offered students an opportunity for studying history in three different courses. Modern history was offered as an elective. It dealt with the social, political, economic and religious struggles that man has been engaged in since the time of recorded history. United States history was a required subject for all juniors. In this course the development of our nation was traced, bringing to attention again the rich heritages we have in America. American problems, a study of our country's social, political and economic problems, was a required course for all seniors.

Mr. Wheelock, both a U.S. History, and an American Problems teacher, discusses the civic problems and aspects of Oktoberfest, after a heated debate in the classroom, with Marie Fischer.

Mental and Physical Dexterity

The purpose of Central's Physical Education Department has always been two-fold. It kept Centralites in top physical condition and taught good sportsmanship, a highly important trait. Central's Business Education Department prepared the students for jobs involving commercial skills and for further study in college. The Manual Arts Department trained students for their future vocation using the skills they had been taught. The courses offered were mechanical drawing, machine woodworking, and machine shop.

Personal typing is offered both during the summer and for a semester course during the school year. Here Mr. Johnson's seventh hour class practices to improve both speed and skill.

Physical Education is a very important phase of Central. Here one of Mr. Venne's sophomore gym classes participates in a spirited game of speedball.

The courses offered in Central's Science Department gave Central students the opportunity to know and explore the scientific world that surrounds us. The subjects offered to Centralites were physical science, physics, advanced science, biology, and chemistry.

Central's well rounded Math Department entered into the exciting realm of numbers. To better and sharpen their minds, Central students were offered geometry, algebra II, trigonometry, analytic geometry, calculus, and probability.

Mr. Robarge, Central's new math teacher, spends a great deal of time after school helping students. Juniors Jon Sleik and Jim Gilbert question a trig problem that just does not make sense to them.

Mr. Silcox, one of Central's many science teachers, emphasizes a point during a lecture on the Kinetic Theory to one of his several chemistry classes.

Through Drive We Draw a Future

Building and preparing students for tomorrow's world was the main aim of the Home Economic and Driver's Education Departments. Home economics offered a broad selection of courses ranging from fundamentals in cooking to interior decorating. These were essentials as vital to tomorrow's housewife as to tomorrow's model. Another important region of our development was the preparation for driving on the overcrowded roads. This task was handled by driver's education.

Swing Choir, one of Central's musical organizations, practice the songs diligently for use in the Thanksgiving Day assembly and the Christmas program.

The Art and Music Departments at Central offered each student the opportunity to develop his individual talents. The Art Department worked with oil paints, water colors, clay, and charcoal, while the Art Club made signs for Central's athletic and social events. The Music Department, in addition to Marching Band, Concert Band, Pep Band, Swing Band, Robed Choir, Swing Choir, and Nocturne, also consisted of fourth and fifth hour Girls' Chorus.

MRS. CARTER

MRS. WEHRENBURG

The student body of Central owed much to the cafeteria workers. Long before the noon-time stampede, the two full time cooks were preparing appetizing meals. Mr. Schyma was Central's chief ticket puncher. He also kept the lunch line moving smoothly. Mr. Sauer had the job of directing students to tables and keeping order. After lunch the student helpers cleaned up the lunch room. All this made the noon hour and lunch a pleasure.

Central's custodians comprised one group whose faithful behind-the-scenes work kept our school in order. Our janitors were Rudy Bay, George Jiracek, Roger Krueger, Fred Mekvold, Walter Schultz, and Carl Violette. Together they accomplished the seemingly endless task of looking after the sanitation and maintenance of our school building and grounds.

You just take it easy at your Latin and try not to flunk out like me. Have some fun this summer but take it easy on the boys and all of that jazz. Wasn't that a fun party this morning in Miss Varas's room? I stuffed about ten cookies in my purse. I'll see you next fall if you're a junior.

With Honors Come Responsibilities.

The highest scholastic distinction that a Central student can obtain is membership in Circle Honor Society. Each spring Circle chooses a membership of students who have proved themselves of high merit in scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The honored few are then initiated in an impressive candlelight ceremony. This year the officers were Mark Levinger, president; Jim Leide, vice-president; Jean Linder, secretary; and Eric Anderson, treasurer. Circle is affiliated with the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools.

Quill and Scroll is an organization of those juniors and seniors who have contributed time and done outstanding work for the Booster or Hi Trib. Members are initiated in the spring by one of the methods prescribed by national organization. The initiation involves an oath and the presentation of gold Quill and Scroll pins, membership cards, and subscription to the Quill and Scroll magazine. This year the officers were Jim Leide, president; Suzanne Young, vice-president; and Jean Linder, secretary-treasurer.

Student Government for Central

The Student Council consisted of an elected member or an alternate from each homeroom. Usually meetings were held twice a month. The Student Council chose and arranged assemblies for the year and tried to promote exchange assemblies with other schools. Fall Festival and Stunt Night were two of the social events sponsored by the group. At the end of the year, the Council holds the elections in which the sophomores and the juniors elect a new president to represent them the next year.

Several junior girls happily work out a routine to get the selling spirit into Central students. Their skit was presented at the annual magazine assembly.

The 1966-1967 Student Council President was Paul Christianson. Paul's goal as president was to promote more school spirit and participation by the students. He accomplished this by creating the Pep Committee which sold pep tags, pompons and planned pep assemblies. The other officers were Vice-President Todd Ondell, Secretary Sandy Dahl, Treasurer Jim Leide, Junior Representative Sandy Toepel, and Parliamentarian Mike Facius.

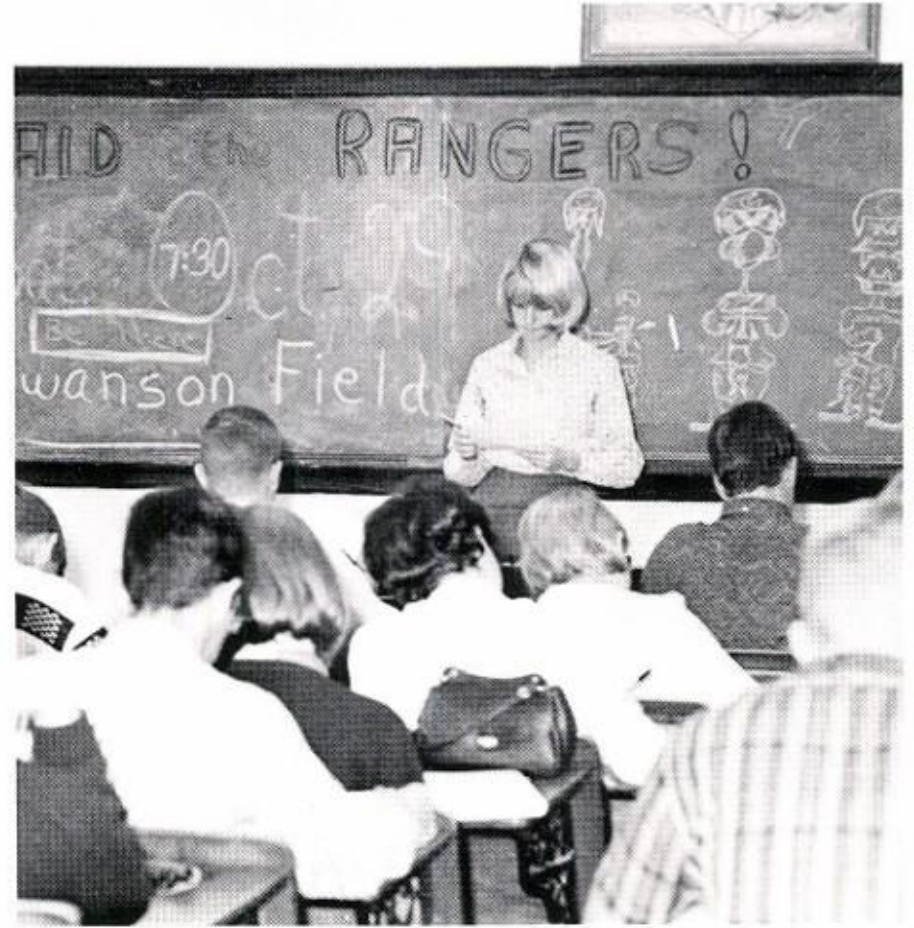

Sophomore Kathy Swartz relinquishes the sum of five cents in order to show her spirit with a pep tag. Mary Rash, pep committee chairman, gladly accepts the nickel.

212 study hall requires the students to stay in their seats until roll has been taken. Then they may stand and talk. Here Sandy Hillmer takes roll in one of the more crowded study halls.

The members of 212 Executive Council were given the job of managing the honor study hall. Twenty-one council members were chosen, based on their character, and their ability to manage a study hall. The council ran six study halls a day plus noon hour. In each study hall the council took roll, checked passes, and kept order. Their most difficult task was regulating membership. The selection was based on the student's ability to maintain good study habits. The group met every other Thursday noon headed by President Greta Hansen, Vice-President William Melby, and Secretary Ellen Panke. Their advisor was Miss Wiley.

For approximately 1467 years people have been fascinated by the complex game of chess. This year was no exception. Meeting every third Monday, Central's Chess Club elected President Dave Klehm, Vice-President Doug Frisbie, and Secretary-Treasurer Jim Weist. Chess has been described as both an art and a science. Actually it is a contest in which the brains and skill of one person are pitted against that of another. Members of Chess Club had a purpose in meeting together. It was to checkmate the opponent's king.

Social Organizers

Central's Social Committee sponsored the Big Brother and Big Sister Program, the sophomore party, and several social events. The committee chosen through try-outs included three members from each class. The officers were Co-chairmen Mike Facius and Mary Berg and Secretary Barb Fuller.

The Big Brother and Big Sister Program provided an invaluable service to the sophomores and transfer students at Central. It consisted of two sections: home-room, led by Mary Berg and Ray Sundet and individual, headed by Mike Facius, who assigned a B.B. or B.S. to help each transfer student adjust.

Y-Teens was a group of girls united by a set of common goals: to grow as a person, to grow in friendship with people of all races, religions, and nationalities, and to grow in the knowledge and love of God. Growth was to be through new friends, experiences, and opportunities. They tried to carry out their goals and ideals in activities and projects throughout the year. Y-Teens is affiliated with the local and national Y.W.C.A. and gives the organization financial support through dues.

The group handled the distribution of friendship pictures to underclassmen as their main money making project. At Christmas they conducted a "hanging of the greens," when school windows were decorated with Christmas scenes and wreaths were placed in the halls. They sponsored two college girls by giving them assistance in the form of spending money and clothes money. Y-Teens also contributed to the World Fellowship which helps to develop Y.W.C.A. centers in foreign countries. The Staffs Put Journalism to Use

Junior Editor Jim Gilbert receives some information concerning copy fitting from Editor Greta Hansen. It is vital to have the right number of lines to fit into the allotted copy block.

The Booster Editorial Staff, including a junior editor, was chosen by tryouts in the spring of 1966. Greta Hansen, this year's editor, and Jim Gilbert, junior editor, divided the staff into the following sections: faculty, senior, organization, school life, sports, proofreading, typing, lay-out, and photography. Mr. Pellowski was the Booster's advisor.

The Booster Business Staff handles the financial aspect of the Booster. Subscribers could buy a listing for the sponsor's page, a Booster, or both. In the spring they sold plastic covers. The business manager was Sue Jenkins and the advisor was Mr. Mitchell.

to Augment the Spirit of Central

Around the school, the city, or at sports events, a Hi-Trib Editorial Staff reporter was always at the scene. Co-editors, Suzanne Young and Jon Ramlow, under the supervision of Miss Rideout, managed the four sections; news, feature, city, and sports.

Business Manager Barb Thiede's staff, directed by Mr. G. Johnson, solicited advertisements from local businesses, which helped pay for the paper. The staff managed circulation and mailed copies of the Hi-Trib to out-of-school subscribers and to other area schools.

The Arts of Masquers and Harlequins were offered to Central students who had a flair for dramatics. The clubs took in twenty-nine students. The new members were accepted on the basis of a memorized monologue presented for the old members. They also increased school spirit with humorous skits at pep assemblies. The climax of the year came when both clubs combined in the presentation of the annual three-act play. Presiding Masquer officers were President Bette Lee, Vice President Suzanne Young, Treasurer Sybil Harrison, and Historian Sandra Toepel. Mrs. Britt was the advisor. President Laurie Becker, Vice President Bill Melby, Secretary John DeDakis, and Treasurer Jon Sleik ruled over Harlequins under the supervision of Mrs. Klund.

Sharon O'Neal and Sue Meroll work to improve their balance and style of a routine. The Orchesis members perform ingenious skits every spring for an assembly.

Last fall, with the suspense of tryouts over, the members of Orchesis settled down to the task of teaching and learning the art of modern dance. The group met every other Thursday evening under Mrs. Lubb's supervision to practice and prepare for their annual spring presentation. At a meeting in the fall the girls decided what their theme for the year would be. They also settled the important job of choosing appropriate costumes to use with their dance routines. Their program was well received by the student body. Presiding officers were President Sue Srdich, Vice-President Janelle Willenburg, and Secretary-Treasurer Rochelle Ondell.

A fairly new organization at Central, Forensics has already added its share of honors to Central's impressive record. Last fall forensics presented under the direction of Mr. McClendon, the club's advisor, a one-act play entitled "Impromptu." Laurie Becker, Lynn Page, Suzanne Young, and John DeDakis practiced interpretive acting and more than earned their rating at a regional contest. Forensics is open to anyone who wishes to develop his individual speaking talents. Extemporaneous speaking is just one of the variety of areas offered.

Stage Crew was those who were behind the scenes of Central's dramatic productions, pep assemblies, and concerts. Their tasks included the arrangement of microphones and lights, the acquisition of props, the pulling of curtains, and the positioning of stage sets. Their officers included technical directors James Weist and David Klehm and treasurer David Tauscher. Mr. Schlicht was the advisor.

The Junior Red Cross had several social projects. Among them were a bake sale at Penny's and a fund drive. The officers were President Laura Iverson, Vice-President Barb Kulcinski and Secretary-Treasurer Sue Chatten. Mrs. Olson was their advisor.

Stage crew member Jim Weist's confidence in his ability to control the auditorium lighting was exhibited by a smile as he ascended to the lighting panel backstage.

Seeking Education Through Books

Debate was open to any interested Centralite who had a desire to argue. Mark Levinger was this year's president and led the group in various trips around the state to wage heated debates. In every session the action began with the words, "Resolved: The foreign aid program of the United States should be restricted to non-military support." Under Mr. Sauer, debating offered its participants the chance to improve their self-expression and quick thinking. It also encouraged development of confidence and critical reasoning.

Under Mrs. Britt, the Student Library Assistants of Central used their study hall time to help keep library procedure running smoothly. They collected fines, checked books in and out, filed, and straightened shelves. S.L.A.C. met twice a month. They elected President George Straasberg, Vice-President Mary Trinkes, and Secretary-Treasurer Sue Chatten. S.L.A.C. offered experience to students who had workable knowledge of the alphabet, an understanding of the Dewey Decimal System, and a desire to help their school.

Science, Radicals

This year the Science Club met under the direction of President David Klehm, Vice-president Bob Mullen, Secretary Doug Frisbie, and Treasurer Jim Weist. The club, among various other activities, cut pine boughs for wreaths as a money making project. The club also conducted several probes of a scientific nature into electronics, chemistry, and physics.

Radicals, Central's math club, met under the observation of Mr. Robarge. The club discussed the mathematical aspects of subjects from matrix algebra to logic. Officers this year were President Kim Gibson, Vice-president Jim Leide, Secretary Mark Levinger, and Treasurer Jon Ramlow. There was also an executive committee for planning programs for meetings.

Los Hidalgos is Central's Spanish Club. Under the leadership of President Jean Linder, Vice-President Robert Black, Secretary Donna Head, and Treasurer Judy McDonald, the club members sold Spanish Christmas cards and held the annual White Elephant Sale. The money earned was put into the treasury and later was used to help pay for the spring banquet. Mrs. Spence was the advisor.

Studying the youth of Germany, caroling at the Hillview Nursing Home, and dining at the Cavalier during Oktoberfest were just a few of the projects undertaken this year by Studio Flott. This year's presiding officers were President Carol Schilling, Vice-President Sara Johns, Treasurer Phil Gelatt, and Secretary Pete Zielke. Miss Taras was the advisor.

Foreign Cultures

Junior Classical League was open to any Latin student. The officers were President Heidi Larson, Vice-President Joel Helke, Secretary Cheryl Hanifl, Treasurer Laura Iverson, and Historian Chris Kuechman. Paul Christianson was state president and Joel Helke was state parliamentarian. Miss Taras and Miss Brye were the club's advisors.

A program with skits by French III and IV students started out the year's French Club, Le Cercle Francais. Last fall Le Cercle sponsored a Tour du Parc, a bicycle race, and after Christmas, they had a banquet with French foods. Officers this year were President Jim Davison, Vice-President Joan Markos, and Secretary-Treasurer Sandy Wood. Mrs. Lennon was the advisor.

Bicycle racing, a new sport at Central, was instigated by the French Club. Here three participants press the limits of endurance attempting to win first place in "La Tour de Parc."

"A Musical Toast to Old Central"

"Bakes," Central's popular and talented band director, gives the Pep Band the downbeat. Mr. Baker works hard to keep all of his units in superlative condition.

A band director works to combine one hundred individual tones into one pleasing sound, employing timing, syncopation, intonation, and dynamics. With these tools he creates a band with quality and precision. To achieve this perfection the Concert Band spent many hours of hard practice both at school and at home. Concert Band was selected from the larger marching band through tryouts. These individual tryouts and sectionals at times proved tedious, but the work was overshadowed in the end by a feeling of pride and achievement in a job well done. Mr. Baker, the director, by his own school spirit, stimulated a feeling of unity within the band and spurred each musician in turn to put forth his best. This year's winter concert, including selections from Swing Band, Swing Choir, and Concert Band, was a musical toast to "Old Central," honoring our past three principals.

Sophomores have one advantage over seniors. They have two years left to participate in Concert Band. Here Tim Goode, Barb Rasmus, and Jim Jenkins practice to improve their musicality.

Darlene Leitz sits first chair in the Central High School Concert Band and well deserves it. Here she is practicing a difficult run for a Concert Band number.

The Marching Band helps lead the team on to victory at a football game with its pep and enthusiasm which is always present.

The 1966-1967 Marching Band members were: Peg Adams, Larry Althause, Eric Anderson, Lyn Anderson, Carol Antony, Bill Ash, Jay Ash, Linda Austin, Grag Balfany, Sherry Baltz, Bruce Baptie, Sue Berg, Steve Bina, Don Blanke, Dick Bouffleur, Terry Brandau, Joanne Bronk, Carol Buehrle, Richard Carr, Sue Cauffman, Carol Christenson, Doug Cox, Jim Davison, John DeDakis, Steve Dellenbach, Mark Dyar, Darrel Dyer, Paul Feroe, Pat Fisher, Kathie Gates, Tim Goode, Arlys Goosfeld, Beth Hanson, Pete Hansen, Kathy Harnish, Eric Hartwig, Cliff Hefti, Cheryl Hilton, Linda Horman, Bob Isbell, Laura Iverson, Paul James, Jim Jenkins, Sue Jenkins, George Jenks, Julie Karis, Karen Kelley, Pam Lee, Jim Leide, Darlene Lietz, Maureen McDowell, Bill Melby, Kathy Metcalf, Jayne Miler, Joan Miller, Mike Moen, Sue Nelsestuen, Tom Niemeyer, Cheri Niles, Greg Northrup, Charles Pearsall, Terry Peterslie, Nancy Peterson, Bill Pfafflin, Ken Pickett, Sandy Pralle, Barb Rasmus, Tom Ringdahl, Libby Rowe, Suellen Sagen, Pete Samb, Tamara Scholl, Dick Schreiber, Gordon Schultz, John Schwenn, LoriLee Severson, Terry Shannon, Steve Sims, Vicki Sobkowiak, John Stachowitz, Jim Stahl, Shirley Stahl, Gary Storandt, Kay Storandt, Cynthia Swan, Randy Swenson, Paul Tande, Jeannette Thompson, Dave Troyanek, Greg Underheim, Pam Viner, Dirk Weber, Sandy Wehrenberg, Bob Werner, Curtis Woods, Jim Wozniak, Mary Wozniak, Mary Young.

The Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. Baker, represented Central in the Labor Day, Memorial Day, and Oktoberfest parades. It performed precision marching routines during half-time at several football games. In addition to the twirlers, Mr. Baker added Drum Major Darrel Dyer and twelve pompon girls to the band this year.

Bakes' Prodigies

Adding zest to the halftime show, the Marching Band displays a formation to the crowd. Long hours, often dusty, cold, or rainy, are spent to add the polish to their routines.

When the Pep Band started to play, "Fight On for Central High" would resonate from the rafters of the gym or the Mary E. Sawyer Auditorium. The Pep Band, a small group of Concert Band members, played at pep assemblies and at all home games. The band added spirit to the pep assemblies by playing before, during, and after the skits. At the games, they played the fight song for each school, and entertained at half-time.

The members of the Swing Band provided Central with the popular, modern type of music. The band played for the annual Halloween Dance and for the first Parent-Faculty Dance held on January 27. They performed in the concerts and at a special Swing Band assembly. The Swing Band, along with the Swing Choir, played in the Exchange Assembly with Aquinas on February 22. The band also performed at the Business Education Dinner and the Western Wisconsin Education Association Convention.

This year Central's Robed Choir worked to combine the musical elements of dynamics, tempo, and harmony to produce a sound of a quality traditional to Central's choirs. Realizing they had a reputation as a fine choir to maintain, choir members, working under the expert direction of Mr. Aronson, strove to improve their voice inflection and expression. The choir members were carefully selected in the spring by Mr. Aronson from the girls' choruses and junior high schools. This year there were sixty-nine regular members plus five alternates. The alternates had a definite incentive to improve their talents as they vied for a robe and a position in the choir for concerts.

*JoAnn,
You are a good
student and a hard worker.
Keep it up next year. Maybe we'll have some classes together, like American Problems with
Mr. Jauther.
Good luck,
Chris Middel*

Choir Combines

To achieve the desired musical results, the Robed Choir meets three times a week to practice third period. Here the baritones and second basses practice to get the right feeling into a song.

Robed Choir presented two musical concerts this year. The Christmas Concert was presented on December 19. Mr. Aronson and the choir placed a great deal of emphasis on spiritual compositions and set the stage for the Christmas season. The traditional Spring Concert was presented the evening of May 3. The music for this program was selected from both secular and spiritual fields with considerable emphasis on the male voices. In addition to the concerts, the Robed Choir appeared in the Veterans' Day Assembly, the Easter Assembly, for Baccalaureate, and for the Memorial Day program. They also established themselves as a fine example of fine musicianship to carry over into the new school next year.

Musical Elements

After practice the members return the music to the file and walk to class singing the song that was worked on before the bell rang. Some members here are discussing the movement of a new song.

By combining hard work and good times, the Fourth and Fifth Hour Girls' Choruses successfully completed another melodious year. Under the master hand of Mr. Henry Aronson, the girls rehearsed three days every week. Membership into the Robed Choir is sometimes the next step for the girls in the choruses, but however successful, the girls receive invaluable training.

Each of the choruses practiced diligently to present a portion of the annual Christmas Concert. "As Lately We Watched," "Gesu Bambino," and "As It Fell Upon A Night" were among the selections delivered at the concert. Students from Viterbo and LaCrosse State University also worked with the girls, and each directed a number in the concert.

Voices Blend in Harmony

Twenty-one carefully chosen voices blended together to highlight the Thanksgiving Assembly, Christmas and Spring Concerts, the Parents-Faculty Dance, and the Exchange Assembly with Aquinas. Selected from the Robed Choir by Mr. Aronson, they performed popular numbers as well as other difficult choral arrangements. Central's Swing Choir also appeared outside the school before Elks Club, and the Northside Business Men's Club.

This fall tryouts again produced an eager group of musically gifted students for Nocturne, Central's music club. Not reserved for just members of band and choir, Nocturne was open to anyone who had an interest in music. Their projects were the production and sale of the student directory, and their annual spring music assembly. This years officers were President Greg Balfany, Vice-president Milner Grimsled, Secretary Evelyn Phillips, and Treasurer Larry Althaus. The club was advised by Mr. Aronson and Mr. Baker.

Mr. Wildt and the Team Retain

Leif Sivertson searches downfield for a clear path to the goal line as he speeds past several frustrated Aquinas gridders during the rough intra-city game.

Central came out on the short end in the scorebox but found much in young talent this year with seventeen seniors, twelve juniors, and four sophomores lettering.

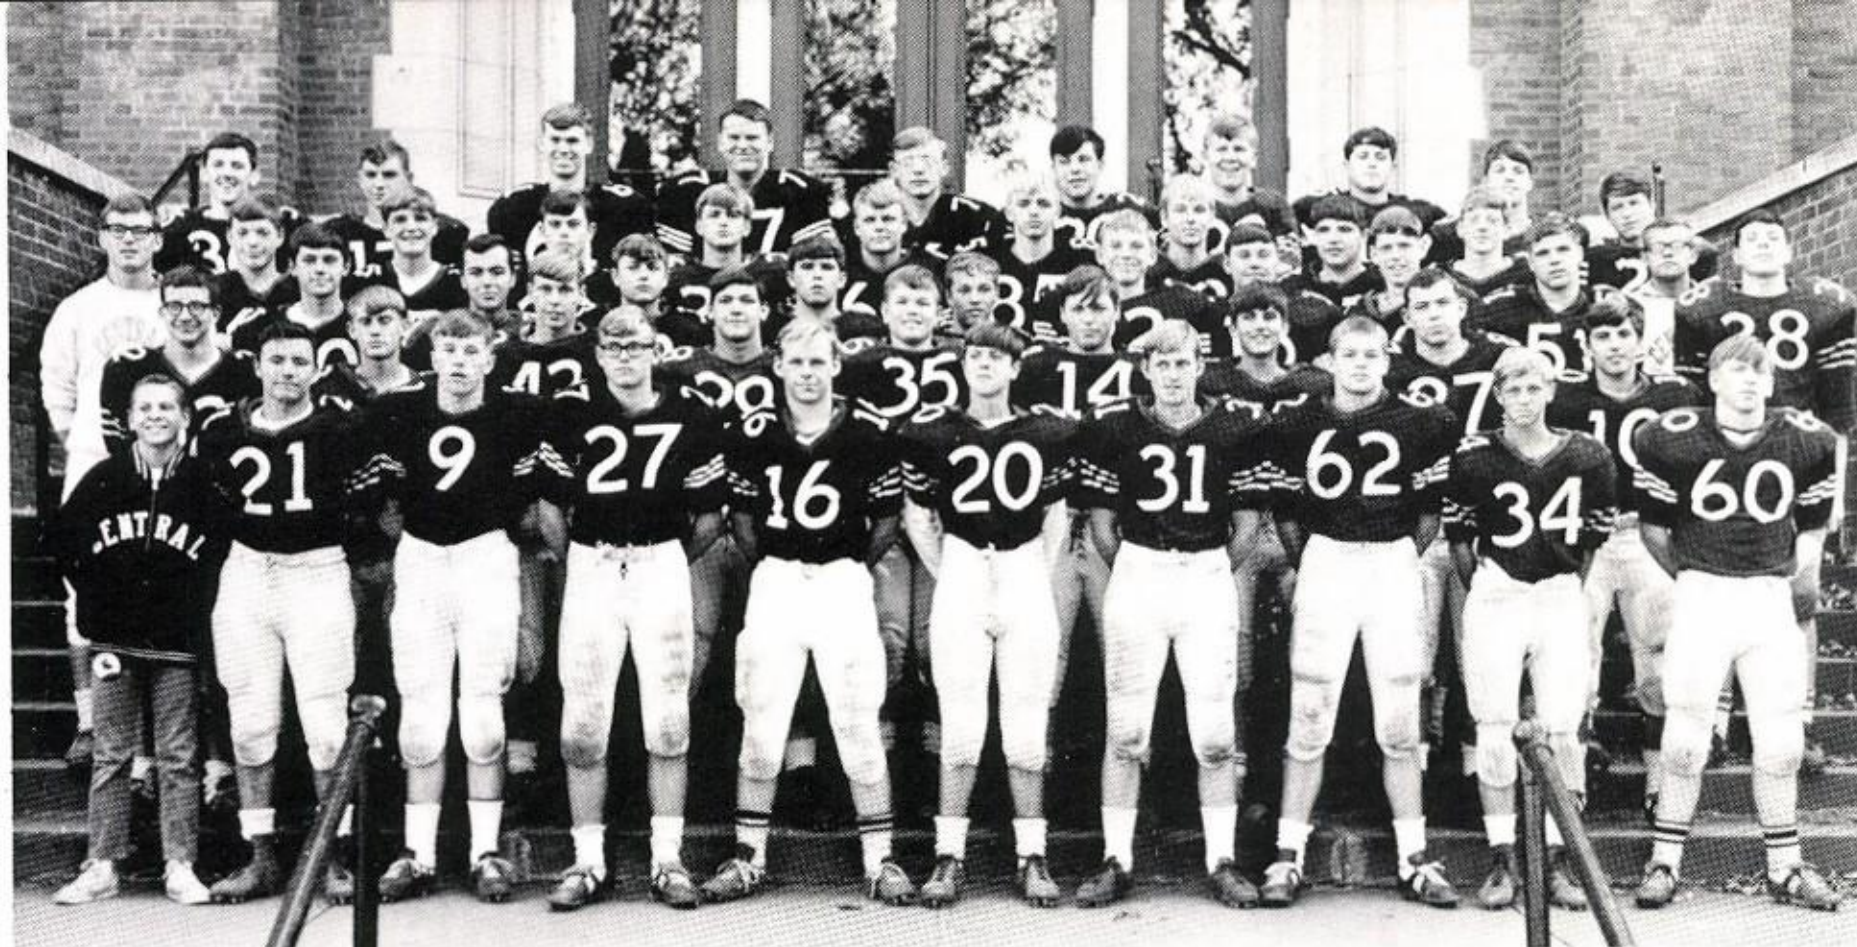

Central started the season against Rochester Mayo. Losing half-back Steve Titcomb early in the game, the Raiders looked to Leif Sivertson to carry the load. Leif compiled seventy-eight yards in twelve carries rushing, and caught two passes for forty-one yards. This boosted Central to a fourteen to thirteen victory.

Central's next foe was Eau Claire Memorial. The Old Abes proved to be too much, overpowering the Raiders forty-seven to seven. Although Central lost, Sivertson, Dahl, and Meier all made impressive showings in rushing. The Raiders could not get rolling against the Menomonie Indians and lost thirty-four to thirteen. Central then fired-up and almost turned back the Huskies of Eau Claire forty to thirty-seven. Central's next opponents were the Lumberjacks from Wausau, who led by a powerful offense and defense, beat the Raiders forty-eight to seven.

Aquinas met the Raiders next and managed to control the Central offense while romping over the defense twenty-seven to zero. The Raiders, trying to regain momentum against Chippewa Falls, scored twenty-five points but were surpassed by the Cardinals, forty-six. Finishing the season against Logan, Mr. Wildt guided the Centralites to a decisive thirty to thirteen victory. By the victory we retained possession of the coveted ark and tilted the overall standings in our favor.

This year's junior varsity squad compiled a respectable four and two record. The varsity to-be under the careful eye of Mr. Silcox produced talented players. The junior varsity had shown their desire to play and although it is relatively early the coaches are very optimistic about next year's prospects.

Lettermen for this year's football team were seniors Paul Christianson, Richard Cole, Mark Dobbs, Doug Gardner, Jim Jacobson, Dave Klawitter, Karl Kuether, Tom Meier, Dave Milne, Norm Nordstrom, Burt Richardson, Sam Sayles, Tom Solberg, Steve Titcomb, Dennis Wright, with Paul Phillips, captain, and Leif Sivertson, most valuable player. The juniors were Larry Dahl, Duane Gordan, Don Hicke, Ken Hudson, Tim Klund, Jeff Potter, Ron Rifenberg, Steve Russell, Jerry Schultz, Ivan Shepard, John Strand, and Ray Sundet. The sophomores were Doug Bacon, Brent Christianson, Steve Cooley, and Jim Gregory.

The Harriers

This fall Central's cross-country team finished its second season of competition. Under the reins of coach Richard Mitchell, the Red Raiders finished 4-2 in dual competition, beating Logan twice and Rochester Mayo and Eau Claire Memorial each once.

Central finished seventh of eight teams at the Wausau Invitational and a close second at the Eau Claire North Invitational. The Central Harriers were first in the Big Rivers Conference meet with Carl Surom the conference champion.

At the sectional meet Central just missed a team berth for state by placing fourth. Only the first three teams could go. Carl Surom placed second and earned a berth for the state meet as an individual. Carl Surom ended his fine season placing second at the state meet, being beaten by one step at the finish.

Wrestling Coach George Skemp entered the '66-'67 season with a nucleus of six returning lettermen. With the help of two transfers, plus the improvement of several wrestlers, the Raiders posted a 5-3 record. In the La Crosse State Invitational, Central grabbed third place out of thirteen schools, with Kim Fry (112 lb.) and Bill Nelson, (121 lb.) winning firsts. In the Big Rivers Meet we placed fifth due to injuries of key wrestlers. We entered tournament action by placing third in Regionals, qualifying four grapplers for Sectionals. There Paul Christianson (180 lb.) placed fourth, Tom McGovern (103 lb.) and Bill Nelson (127 lb.) both third, and Kim Fry (112 lb.) placed first, qualifying him for State. There Kim Fry compiled a 2-2 record.

Dan Grimslid, who wrestles at 145 lb., is endeavoring to keep his opponent's shoulders pinned to the mat. If he is successful, the pin is worth five points.

The Red Raiders took second place in the Big Rivers Conference this year trailing behind Wausau. Central also took the city title beating Aquinas and Logan each twice. Two of the Raiders' three losses were at the hands of Wausau, who finished second in the state meet. The other season loss came from Eau Claire North, who won on a last second shot 96-95, giving the Raiders a 15-3 record.

This year the Red Raiders earned a berth in the State Basketball Tournament. La Crosse met many fine area schools in Regional and Sectional Tournament play but was able to overtake them all. Central's first opponent at the State Basketball Tournament was number one rated Milwaukee Lincoln, who overwhelmed the Raiders 109-71. Unable to regain their form the Raiders also lost to Green Bay West 84-50 in consolation play. Every member of the team lettered this year, including manager Milner Grimsled.

As a sophomore starter, John Ford has repeatedly shown his fine worth not only as a good dribbler but also as a sharp shooter, especially from outside. Here we see the fine form against Aquinas.

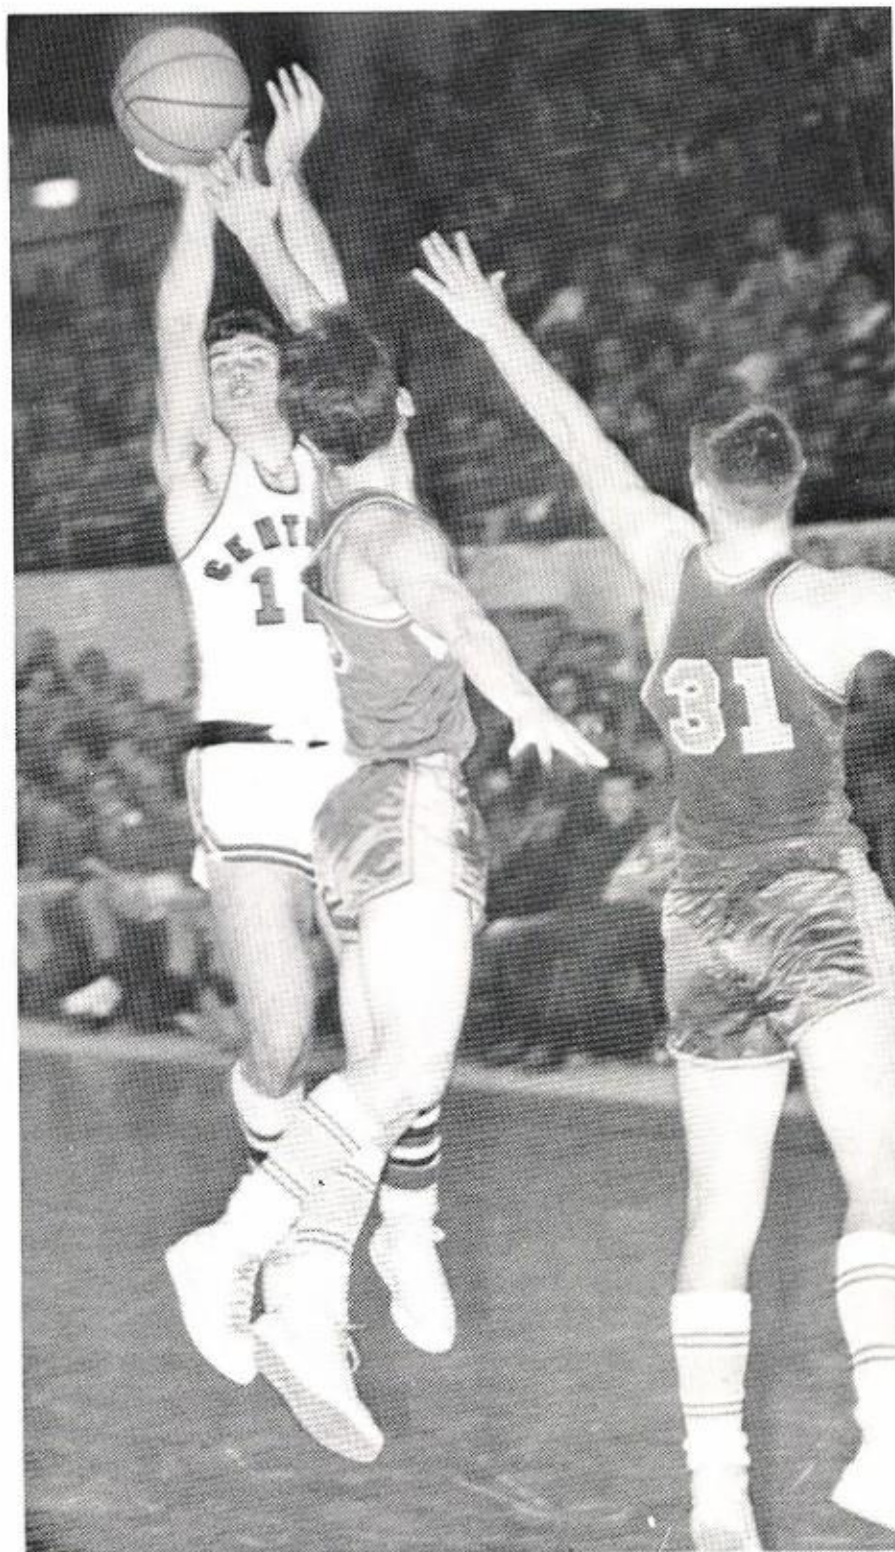

Steve Flaten endeavors to attain a bucket score while his opponents try to block the shot. The shot is from the Central-Chippewa Falls game held at the Mary E. Sawyer Auditorium.

Junior Varsity, Sophomores

The sophomore squad's schedule was shortened this year because of the departure of their coach, Mr. Tichenor, at the semester. They opened the season losing to Holy Cross. After that they won the next three games, beating La Crescent, Logan, and Onalaska. The sophomores then bowed to Aquinas and La Crescent. Ending the season they beat Holy Cross, lost to Aquinas, and beat Onalaska Luther and Logan.

This year's B-Squad, coached by Mr. Robarge, compiled an eight-ten season. In the city circuit the Raiders came in second place beating Logan twice and bowing to Aquinas twice. The junior varsity had a slow start. Losing the first four starts, Central come back to put down Logan 67-45 and then lost to Eau Claire Memorial 52-47. Aquinas then tipped Central 76-66. The Raiders then came back to win their next four games. They split their last seven games, winning three and losing four of them.

Skiing

This year the Ski Team was coached by Mrs. Lubbs. It posted a fine record. Hampered by poor weather conditions, the team was limited to two meets and then the state competition. In the first meet Central competed against three other schools, Eau Claire Memorial, Eau Claire North, and Wausau. Tom Ringdahl took the honors in the slalom with Jim Berg and Eric Miller tied for third. The Raiders swept the Giant Slalom with Eric Miller first, Tom Ringdahl second, and Jim Berg, third. Central also took the honors in total combined times for individuals with Tom Ringdahl first, Eric Miller second, and Jim Berg, third. The Red Raiders hosted the same three schools again and again won. Tom Ringdahl this time took both the slalom and the Giant Slalom. John Rebhan took first in the downhill. Competing with ski teams from all over the state, Central took fifth place.

Leaders of Cheer

Our cheerleaders were vital to our teams for the energetic punch and enthusiasm they instilled in the students. This year's varsity cheerleaders were always ready to put that extra pep into the crowd and fill them with Central school spirit. Directed by Mrs. Ross, the eight girls with Nancy Peterson as captain, were always looking for new cheers to show the crowd at pep assemblies. Their job was not only to cheer our team to victory but also to make the students understand that fairness and integrity on the part of the players and spectators were part of the game, too.

Helping to generate enthusiasm for our future varsity teams, were the B-squad cheerleaders comprised of eight girls, the group gained experience and confidence by cheering for the B-team games. During the basketball season, they took an active part in the pep assemblies, and at games they provided colorful and spirited school representation. At each game the squad had an honorary captain to whom the responsibility of organizing and starting the cheers belonged. Early in the year, the squad attended a cheerleading camp at Platteville, where new cheers and techniques were introduced. Many of these were used throughout the year.

Upholding the tradition of excellence through competition and sportsmanship, the LC Club of Central remained as one of the school's most distinguished organizations. It was held in highest esteem and carried with it the stiffest qualifications for membership. If something of themselves was given then the boys' letter or letters were truly deserved and cherished. At our annual Memorial Day assembly, the lettermen formed an honor guard and were always on hand at the basketball games to parade the colors. Efficiently advised by Babe Weigent, the letter-holders comprised a worthwhile organization because sports and outstanding athletes meant so much to Central.

New on the scene this year were Central's Pom Pon Girls. These twelve girls, all seniors, formed the group as an "experiment." They hoped to add enthusiasm and to keep our school spirit in top condition. Under the direction of Mr. Baker, the girl's main activities centered around the band, making it an even more impressive unit. The girls put on halftime shows at football and basketball games and added color to our band by taking part in the Homecoming and Oktoberfest parades. The girls had LaCrosse State Pom Pon Girls help and criticize them, but their routines were their own creations. With tryouts in the spring, the Pom Pon Girls hoped to see their group carried into Central's future.

Netmen Pull 5-3 Record

The Red Raider tennis team, coached by Mr. Weinbender, pulled out a 5-3 record for the regular season. Central took second place to Aquinas but beat Logan in the city competition.

Central began the tennis season meeting Winona in two consecutive matches. Central toppled Winona 7-1 the first time. Winona, a little better in the second match, still didn't match up to Central and lost this time 7-2. Central then played Aquinas who proved to be too much for Central winning 5-4. The Raiders then played the Logan Rangers and with efforts by Dick Schreiber, Tim Harnish, Greg Balfany, John DeDakis, Jim Stenzel, and Jim Wewerka in the singles, and Schreiber-Harnish, Murphy-Largent, and Belfany-Hanhardt in the doubles blanked the Rangers 9-0. Central netmen moved on to conquer the Old Abes 7-2. The Bluegolds in the second match proved to be tough and overtook the Raiders 7-2. The Raiders came back strong after losing to Aquinas, beating the Rangers 4-3. Ending the regular season Central lost to the Old Abes 6-3.

Central played in the sectionals and tried for 3rd place but did not qualify for the state meet.

Linksmen Drive Past Opponents

This year's golf team coached by Mr. Mower won all but two seasonal meets. Central took the city crown undefeated toppling both Aquinas and Logan twice.

Central's first meet was postponed and made Central start their season against a Winona team, putting them away 159-168. Playing Rochester Pete Haugen, Gary Meir, Mike Radell, and Karl Kuether tallied a score of 320 points to top Rochester's score of 349. The Raiders then had their first inter-city match beating the Logan Rangers 165-314. Coming home Central was faced with Aquinas but managed to put them away 338-354 the first time and 336-365 the second time. Logan presented the next threat to the Raiders but Central won 340-348. Ending the regular season playing the Old Abes 325-339 in the second.

Central took the honors in the Big Rivers Meet in first place with Pete Haugen having the best score for the Raiders. Central fought only to get 5th in the sectionals and did not qualify for state.

Cindermen Make

Central's ace miler Carl Surom breezes past several onlookers to break the string ahead of the rest of the field in the longest race in which a Central runner participates.

Central's track team took 7 of 11 regular seasonal meets and took second place in the sectionals. Participating in the state wide meet Central tied for 33rd place.

The Red Raiders' first competition was with seven other schools at Wisconsin Rapids. Centralites secured three first places to give Central 2nd place at this meet. The Red Raiders then competed against thirty-two other schools in the Madison West Relays and placed 10th among them. The Raiders then took 13 of 14 events in passing over the Winona Winhawks 107-11. Aquinas in LaCrosse was the next opponent for Central; Central beat Aquinas 79-43. The Raiders put down the Old Abes scoring a 102-16 victory. Central then went to Charles City, Iowa where the Raiders led by Terry Johnson and John Sterling, took 2nd place. Central then met Viroqua and Richland Center in a triangular meet and took 13 of 14 events making a score of 104 points. Coming home, the Raiders stole the Peacocks tallying 58 points. Playing Rochester the Raiders walked away with 12 of the 14 events winning 86-32. The Raiders took 5th place in the Tri-State Relays. Central came back to win its seventh Big Rivers championship in 10 years. The Raiders tallied 89 points compared to the next closest 63½.

Central lost to Superior by 4 points in the sectionals and took 33rd place in State Competition.

Speed, height, and balance are all important to long jumper, Oren Pengra, as he strains to go as far across the pit as he possibly can.

Striving for new records Russ Cooper extends the baton out to Leif Sivertson's outstretched hand as Central's 880 relay team races on to victory.

Back row: Coach Glenn Wildt, M. Ehrsam, M. Squier, D. Gardner, S. Sayles, D. Schroeder, T. Ondell, B. Schirmacher, T. Schultz, G. Wigdahl,

B. Tauscher. Front row: R. Luecke, G. Henriksen, R. Hilleshiem, R. Benson, R. Abraham, G. Schultz, D. Olson.

Because there were only four returning lettermen, results seemed discouraging for the season. But with determination, teamwork, and Mr. Wildt, the coach, Central won 3 of its 8 games.

Central's first opponent was Winona. With only two hits Central managed to get 4 runs but didn't quite top Winona's 7. The Blazing Winhawk squad put down Central again handing them a 8-2 bill. Coming back the Red Raiders topped Aquinas 5-4 with the fine work of Todd Ondell. The Raiders then moved on and beat the Tomah preps 13-6. Central was then faced with its second inter-city game, with Logan. The Raiders won the game, 7-5. Our team was then against Eau Claire Memorial squad and lost 5-0. Central ended the regular season playing Aquinas and Logan. Central was defeated 4-3 by Aquinas and 4-0 by Logan.

The Red Raiders proved superior to the Logan Rangers blanking them 5-0 in district play. Central was stopped 3-2 by Westby.

A GAA member bounces on the trampoline while other members spot for her. In addition to being fun, trampolining is conducive to coordination and balance.

Providing Central girls with additional sports activity and promoting good sportsmanship as its goals, GAA, or Girl's Athletic Association, strived for both of these goals. Advised by Mrs. Lubbs, with Kathy Pishaw as president and Barb Young as secretary-treasurer, the girls took part in many interesting things. They took a trip to the college and learned about various games, especially basketball. They were taught about zones, reffing, and playing a better game. In the fall, their biggest activities were archery, which was practiced on Hixon Field, and horseback riding. In the winter, the emphasis was on playing basketball and organizing teams. During the spring the girls played softball.

Patty Markos does a straddle vault on the side horse at a GAA meeting. The GAA interested its members by offering sports from basketball and volleyball to swimming.

Twirlers, GAA

Adding spirit and color to our marching band were Central's twirlers, the Raiderettes. This year there were five girls, advised by Mr. Baker, who made up the unit. Members were Vicki Stange, Nancy Greider, Sue Powers, Barb Molzahn, and Ann Mettillie. The girls displayed their talents at parades and led the band onto the field to perform at football halftimes. Also, they often put on routines at pep assemblies. Aside from their regular activities, the Raiderettes ushered at all of the band and choir concerts. The girls spent second hour every day with the band, practicing and continually improving their methods. Their hours of diligent work paid off with the performances they gave.

Go Ann,

This year really has gone fast. I hope the summer is a little slower. Its too bad Dave wont be in La Crosse much longer but you will go see him and that wont be too bad. Boy you sure are whipped!!!

If you go to Minneapolis dont buy too many clothes. save a few for the other people.

See you this summer.

Lana.

Closes Old Central with Honors

The seniors of the 1967 graduating class were unique. It was the final class to complete its secondary education at Central. Under the leadership of its president, Paul Phillips, the seniors produced a variety of honors and performed many services. Other officers were Todd Ondell, vice president; Suzanne Young, secretary; and Jim Leide, treasurer.

The ten top seniors scholastically were: Eric Anderson, Milner Grimsled, Donna Head, James Leide, Darlene Leitz, Mark Levinger, Jean Linder, Evelyn Phillips, Jonathan Ramlow, and Suzanne Young. Class rank was determined by averaging the final grades earned in the sophomore and junior years with the marks received for the first and second senior quarters.

This honor and recognition was coveted by the recipients and respected by the students and faculty. As essential as scholarship, their active and responsible participation in other school activities helped develop both personal and citizenship qualities. Many seniors took part in vocal and instrumental organizations, interscholastic and intra-mural athletics, school journalism activities, and various speech programs.

June 4 marked graduation day of these last "old" Central graduates. The commencement addresses were given by Laurie Becker, Paul Christianson, Greta Hansen, and Suzanne Young.

Baccalaureate exercises were conducted the preceding Sunday. The convocation speaker was Reverend Harris Mooney of Christ Episcopal Church.

Once again Central was represented by National Merit Finalists. Three of this high school's top scholastic achievers were named. There were Milner Grimsled, Mark Levinger, and Alan Rockwood. In the spring of 1966 the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test was administered to high school juniors throughout the country. Named as semifinalists, these students had their names and scores submitted for the finalist competition. In addition to receiving personal satisfaction and honor these students have brought prestige to Central.

Central is extremely fortunate to have three Merit Scholarship Finalists. They are Mark Levinger, Milner Grimsled, and Alan Rockwood.

The 1966 Fall Festival Court: J. Peterson, J. Miller, J. Swartz, T. Cremer, M. Schwandt, R. Ondell, J. Strand.

As summer came to an end, plans for Central's 1966 Fall Festival began. During the preceding week students participated in Clash Day, Whisper Day, and Color Day. At a spirit-rousing pep assembly held the eve of the Menominee game, Queen Tina Cremer and her court consisting of seniors Mary Schwandt and Jennifer Swartz, juniors Jayne Miller and Rochelle Ondell, and sophomores Joye Peterson and Jackie Strand, were announced. The band led the annual parade of floats and guests to the field. Later at the dance featuring the Fax, Tina was crowned by Mark Dobbs.

Chorus girl Barbara Theide struts around the gym with members of her line placing lipsticked kisses on surprised football team members amid much laughter and cheers.

you enough. I hope I see you*

Sophomores' Party, TWIRP

The year gets into full swing as upperclassmen help launch the sophomores on their way to a successful first year at Central High School during the Sophomore Party.

Sophomore orientation began this year with the Sophomore Party, sponsored by the Social Committee and Student Council. It all began in the auditorium, with skits presented by the cheerleaders, clubs, and the team. The program ended with the singing of Central's Pep Song. The sophomores were then ushered in to the gym where they learned the cheers and had an opportunity to dance and get acquainted. As a result of the orientation, sophomores were familiarized with the school and each other.

Linda Engler discusses monetary expenditures for the evening at Twirp, held on November 18. She is talking with her date Kent Bacon.

Senior Paul Phillips enthusiastically explains some facets of life at Central to sophomores Rich Thill and Jayne Schroeder, as cheerleader Cathy Phillips adds her own thoughts.

The annual Twirp week started on November 14, 1966. The following days, ending on November 18, proved funfilled for everyone. There was Sweater Day, Tag Day, Dress-up Day, and probably the most fun of all, No Talk Day. On No Talk Day, no girl was allowed to talk to a boy. If she did, her name, the boy's name, and a witness' name were put into a Kangaroo Court Box. The record hop on Friday, November 18, ended the week of fun, gaiety, and excitement.

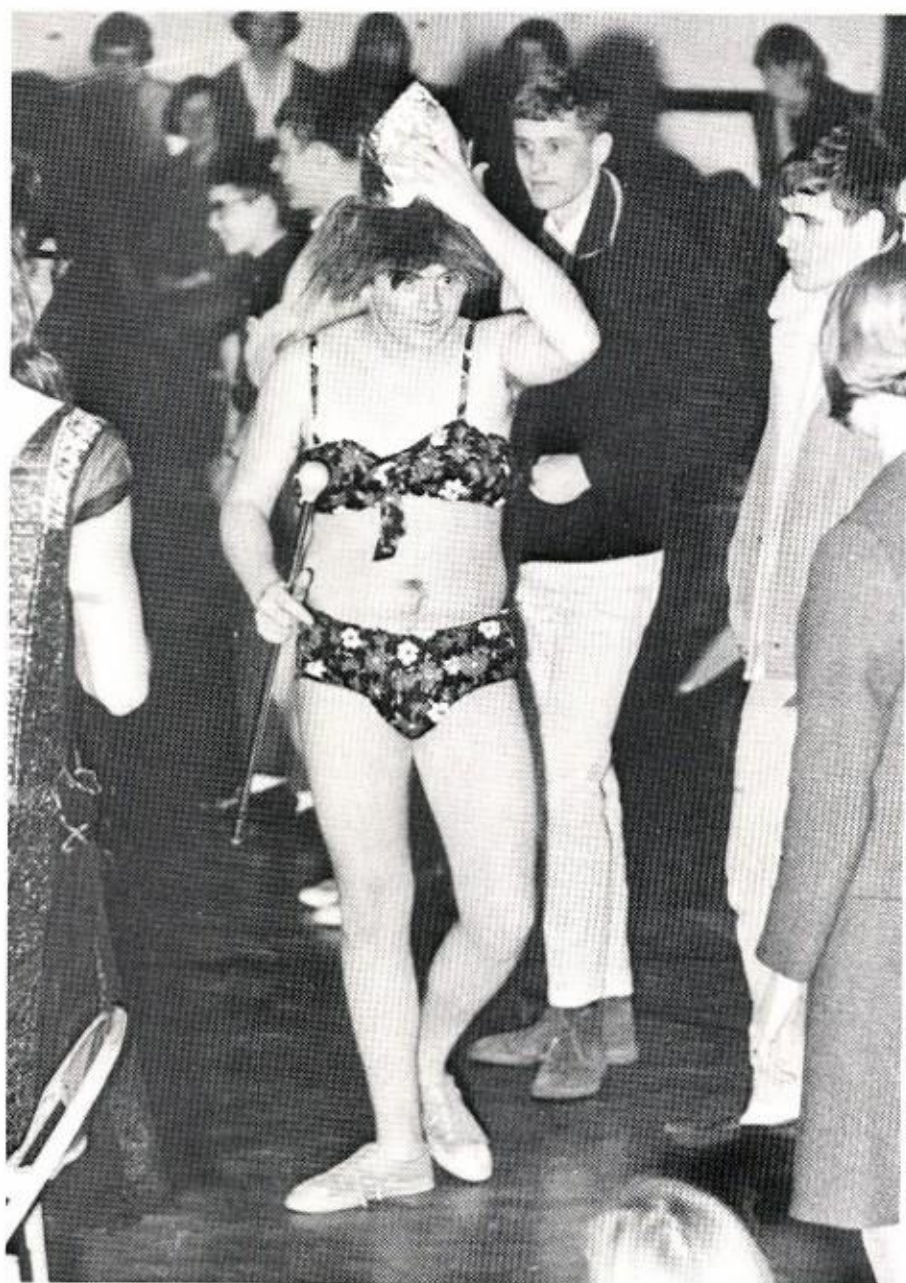

Twirp Week represented work for Sara Gundersen as she fixed a daily sack lunch for her date Bill Melby. The man ruled supreme for a week while the ladies carried books and ran errands.

The entertainment is good and "barefooting" is fun at the annual Sock Hop. The "Chaparrals," made up of Eric Hartwig, Dirk Weber, Gary Hayes, and Art McClure, provide the music.

Gary Stewart, "Miss Mini-Homecoming of 1967," receives words of congratulations after being crowned at the pep assembly. He received the honored treasure of a title after performing a baton-twirling act.

Cheryl Leitz, Joanne Gantenbein, Denise Ganey, Virginia Solie, and Julie Bouslough take a breather at the Sock Hop held on October 14. The Sock Hop, another traditional event of Central, is sponsored by the Social Committee.

Old Traditions

Central initiated the students into their first Mini-Homecoming with a pep assembly on February 3. Each class presented a skit that added hilarity and spirit to the show. Gary Stewart, "Sloe Gin," was crowned Miss Mini-Homecoming of 1967. The floats, which consisted of no more than two wagons, were led around the gym by the "pep band." That evening, after the decisive victory over Eau Claire Memorial, the students convened at Central's gym for a dance.

Members of Central High School's "Marching Symphonic Band" usher in the floats at the Mini-Homecoming Pep Assembly. The members are wearing half of their new uniforms, which unfortunately, were only half paid for.

Sherry Weissenberger and a classmate help themselves to the tasty goodies provided by the home economics department. Patti Paulsen serves punch to help speed up the procedure.

Blend with the New

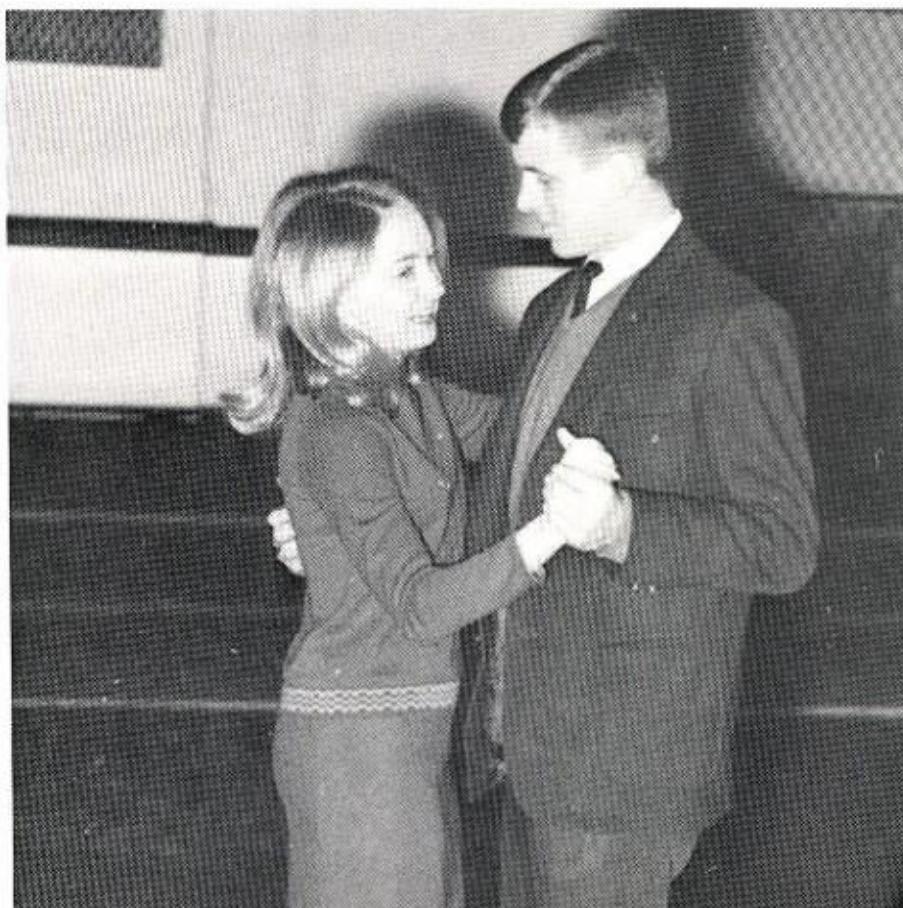

The warm spirit of Christmas was brought into the halls by the Y-Teens' annual "Hanging of the Greens." Wreaths scented the building with the fragrance of pine and of the outdoors. They also decorated the windows of the school with pictures of Christmas scenes. Mrs. Dahler's senior Home Economics classes contributed their part to the season by sponsoring a tea on December 20. Another part of Christmas, the renewing of old friendships was given by the Social Committee in the form of the annual Alumni Dance, which was held on December 21. This year over sixty of Central's alumni returned to dance and visit with their friends at their "alma mater." Central's graduates danced to music, played by a local disc jockey, and chatted over refreshments.

Ellen Panke straightens the bright red ribbon on a holly wreath hung in the hall. Every year the Y-Teens brighten the halls and help spread Christmas cheer.

Past Senior Class President Randy Hilleshiem dances with his date Chris Mendell, a former cheerleader, at the Alumni Dance. They were only two of the many returning grads attending.

Alumni Barb Hogue and Rick Nordstrom dance as they chat about their experiences during the past semester at the annual Alumni Dance held December 21.

Amid the other energetic players Mr. Schyma goes up for another two points as the faculty trounced the Royals in the annual Student-Faculty game.

High magazine salesgirl Suellen Sagen wonders how she ever had enough energy to recruit customers. Suellen may be the shortest girl at Central High, but her incentive is very tall.

Decked out in their spring "Flight Fashions," Sue Callaway, Carol Daughy, Lori Cantwell, and Shirley Schultz model for the annual Home Ec. Style Show.

Students Excel

Thanks to hours of hard work and planning by many Central seamstresses and their advisors, Mrs. Dahler and Mrs. Krull, the home economics department again presented a delightful style show featuring the latest fashions. Sandy Wiemerslage was general chairman and Roxanne Rosson was general commentator. Following "Flight Fashions," everyone was invited to a tea given by the sixth period Home Economics III class.

Hot Shooters Mr. Moldrem and Coach Day led the undefeated Central High School faculty basketball team to its twentieth straight victory, walloping the 1966 Swing Shanty Champs, the "Royals," with a score of 88-74. Mr. Sauer sparked the win with his strategic defensive action, and kept an enthusiastic audience well entertained. Although the faculty held the lead from the start, the "Royals" fought a tough battle right up to the last seconds of the game.

During the second quarter the junior class worked on their Jr. Ex. Each student was required to do an extensive and concentrated study of the life of one person who had made some great contribution to humanity. After completion of the research, a five minute speech was prepared, centered around a theme and the life and character of the person. The students then presented the speech before their English classes. Class winners advanced to the semifinals where four girls and four boys were selected as finalists to give their speeches during the Jr. Ex. assembly held on January 18. Chris Haugen and Robert Black were the masters of ceremonies at the assemblies. Margaret Duffy won in the girls' competition and Ray Sundet and Jim Gilbert tied in the boys' competition. The other finalists were John De Dakis, Jim Davison, Joan Markos, Sandy Toepel, and Mary Amunson. Ray spoke on Clarence Darrow, one of America's most celebrated criminal lawyers. Darrow referred to criminals as "machines that had broken down. We don't punish machines." Jim presented Walter Reed, who helped conquer yellow fever in Cuba, and who "came, saw, and conquered." According to Margaret, "Jesus was strong."

Jr. Ex. Finalists, back row: J. Davison, R. Black, J. Gilbert. Third row: K. Haugen, J. DeDakis. Second row: S. Toepel, R. Sundet, M. Amunson. Front row: M. Duffy, J. Markos.

Ripon College was the site of Badger Boys' State. The University of Wisconsin held meetings for Badger Girls' State. These two sessions were held during the first week of summer vacation in 1966. The purpose was to demonstrate the techniques of democracy to the attending students and to give them practice in these techniques. The representatives from here were Suzanne Young, Paul Christianson, Laurie Becker, John Ginsky, and Paul Phillips.

They stayed in dormitories designated as cities and counties. During the week the delegates were elected to various offices. Each day began with a lecture and was followed by classes in Parliamentary Law, Civil Service, or Law School. After classes, party caucuses were held on different levels: city, county, and state. Extra-curricular activities such as band, choir, or athletic events occupied the afternoons. The evenings were spent attending an assembly or a convention. These meetings were all mandatory.

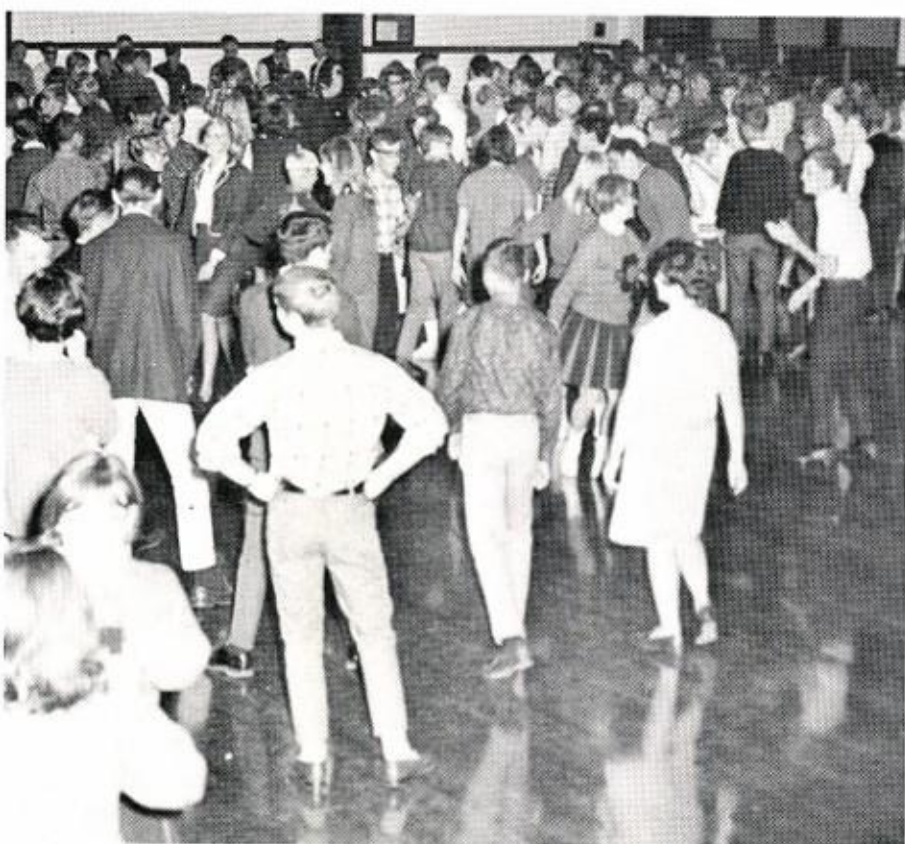

But Still Have Fun

Under the "unique" directorship of Pam Voight, Central High's famed "Sheeted Choir" sings its way on to tie for first place during Stunt Night.

Centralites combined humor, originality and talent to present eight acts at the annual Stunt Night program sponsored by Student Council. After much indecision the judges announced ties for both first and second places. First place honors went to the "Sheeted Choir" under the direction of Pamela Voight and to a skit, "Three Wheels On My Wagon," featuring Nancy Andersen and Mary McKeeth. Greg Balfany, John Sterling, Lee Anderson and Bruce Baptie, combining forces to form the "Brass Quartet," shared second place honors with Janelle Willenberg and Gwen Stenslien for their skit entitled "There is Nothing Like A Dame".

Barb Schroeder and Eileen Clauss go through their frantic antics for a Stunt Night audience. They were but two of the talented and otherwise gifted performers.

The Many Phases

A few days before each home football or basketball game at Central High, posters, indicating a game and a dance directly following that game to be held at the Central gym, would appear in the halls. These Swing Shanty dances were well-known among the various groups of students. The dances were sponsored by the La Crosse Parks and Recreation Department. Teachers chaperoned and sold tickets at them.

A $.50 Swing Shanty membership card was purchased by many of the students, thus enabling them to have a lower admission fee at each of the dances. A disc jockey usually spun records for the dance. These records varied from "Lara's Theme from Doctor Zhivago" to "Lady Godiva." Although interest and participation in Swing Shanty dances lagged and nearly expired at times, the dances were continued to be held. The people concerned with the Swing Shanty dances hoped that more students would attend next year in the new school where the students would not have to travel to get to the dance.

The smiling faces in the crowd represent the enthusiasm which went into the Swing Shanty dances. The dances were held after each Central home football and basketball game.

of Ann,
 well, hasn't history
 class been interesting?
 It was really fun
 when Mr. Tichenor was here and now
 there's Mr. Lauther.
 I remember how we always would look out the window, even after the bell had rung. Oh, well, just think if we play our cards right, we might get him
 for American Problems.
 Won't that be fun? I hope that next year I'll be in some more of your classes. Best of Luck always Maureen McDowell

Pleading at the knees of her husband, Pam Voight tries to convince Laurie Becker, Bill Hoel, and herself that she is not going mad during Central's three-act play, "Angel Street."

Utilizing the talents of Masquers and Harlequins Central presented its annual three-act play, this year entitled "Angel Street." The cast was different in that it consisted of only five characters compared to the usually large cast plays presented in the past. Throughout the suspenseful melodrama Jack Manningham tried to convince his wife, Belle (Pam Voight) that she, like her wretched mother before her, was losing her mind. This heartless murderer (Laurie Becker) almost succeeded in his scheme, but the shrewdness of an elderly detective, (G. William Hoel), and the assistance of two faithful maids (Lynn Page and Bette Lee) outwitted him.

School spirit and concern for improvements of Central have been evident throughout this year, but were especially noticeable during the weeks preceding the Student Council President Election held May 13, 1966. Two candidates, Mike Facius and Paul Christianson, were on the ballot. Centralites examined the two platforms and elected Paul to lead the student body. Paul worked toward the reinstatement of the Foreign Exchange Student Program and started a pep club to plan pep assemblies and bus trips. He worked to better the communication between the faculty and the students, and helped coordinate the student council with the city youth council by serving on its executive board. He published a biannual report in the "High Trib" concerning the student council's activities and sent a report after every meeting to each homeroom in order for the student body and faculty to know its activities.

Working on the Student Council President campaign is not all fun and glory. There is work involved as Todd Ondell, Sandy Dahl, and Rochelle Ondell can testify.

As the eve of prom draws near, Todd Ondell and Jean Linder strive to complete decorations on the stairway between the sweatbox and the gym.

"Summer Place"

After months of preparation and anxiety, May 14 and with it, the 1966 Junior Prom finally arrived. Sagging crepe paper and cloudy skies added to the tension as the dance approached. By using pale green, dark green and yellow as basic colors, the prom committee transformed the gym into a park. The false ceiling and walls and the floral displays helped to set the mood. The crowning touch, the gazebo glittered and glowed under the soft-colored lights.

The "walkway in a park," actually the hallway between the gym and the sweatbox, was decorated with flowers and greenery and draped with an arch of green streamers. Just as unforgettable was the disguised sweatbox. A huge mural depicting a country lane on a moonlit night covered one wall. The mothers of the prom committee members served punch to prom goers.

Enjoying the romantic mood and music that such an event brings, 1966 Junior Prom goers dance beneath the crepe paper sky of green and yellow.

Retzlaff, Jennifer Schwartz, Paul Christianson, Ann Sundet, Mark Dobbs, Mary Rash, Todd Ondell, Barb Theide, Steve Flaten.

From 9:00 to 12:00 the couples danced to the music of Kenny Bye and his orchestra. Boys in tuxedos and dinner jackets danced with their dates who were in pastel formals. Then the awaited moment arrived. Terry Murphy and Jeanne Newburg, king and queen of the 1965 Junior Prom, presented the court whose members were Mark Dobbs and Ann Sundet, Paul Christianson and Jennifer Swartz, Steve Flaten and Barb Thiede, Jim Nordrum and Diane Hermanson, Todd Ondell and Mary Rash, Paul Phillips and Diane Retzlaff, and John Sterling and Mary Schwandt. While the orchestra played the theme song "Summer Place" the new king and queen were announced. Paul Christianson and Jennifer Swartz were chosen to reign over the 1966 prom.

The entertainment of the evening didn't end with the stroke of twelve. A late dinner at a restaurant was enjoyed by most of the couples. Home by 2:30 and out again by 7:00 was the agenda for many because there were breakfasts to attend after which was church.

Another prom will be remembered; however, none of it could have been accomplished without the help of Centralites, Miss Wiley and other faculty members. The decorations, the music, the court, and the fun of the 1966 Junior Prom will be remembered.

A Tribute to Those Departed

The soldiers who gave their lives fighting for their country are honored every May 30 with a solemn program on Central's front lawn. Students and teachers alike pause in their busy schedules to remember those who gave their lives for the ideals we hold so high. May 30, 1966, was no exception. The program was begun with the bugle call by John Sterling. The solemnity of the invocation by Pastor Arthur Feroe was extended by the voices of the Robed Choir singing "This is My Country" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" under the direction of Mr. Aronson.

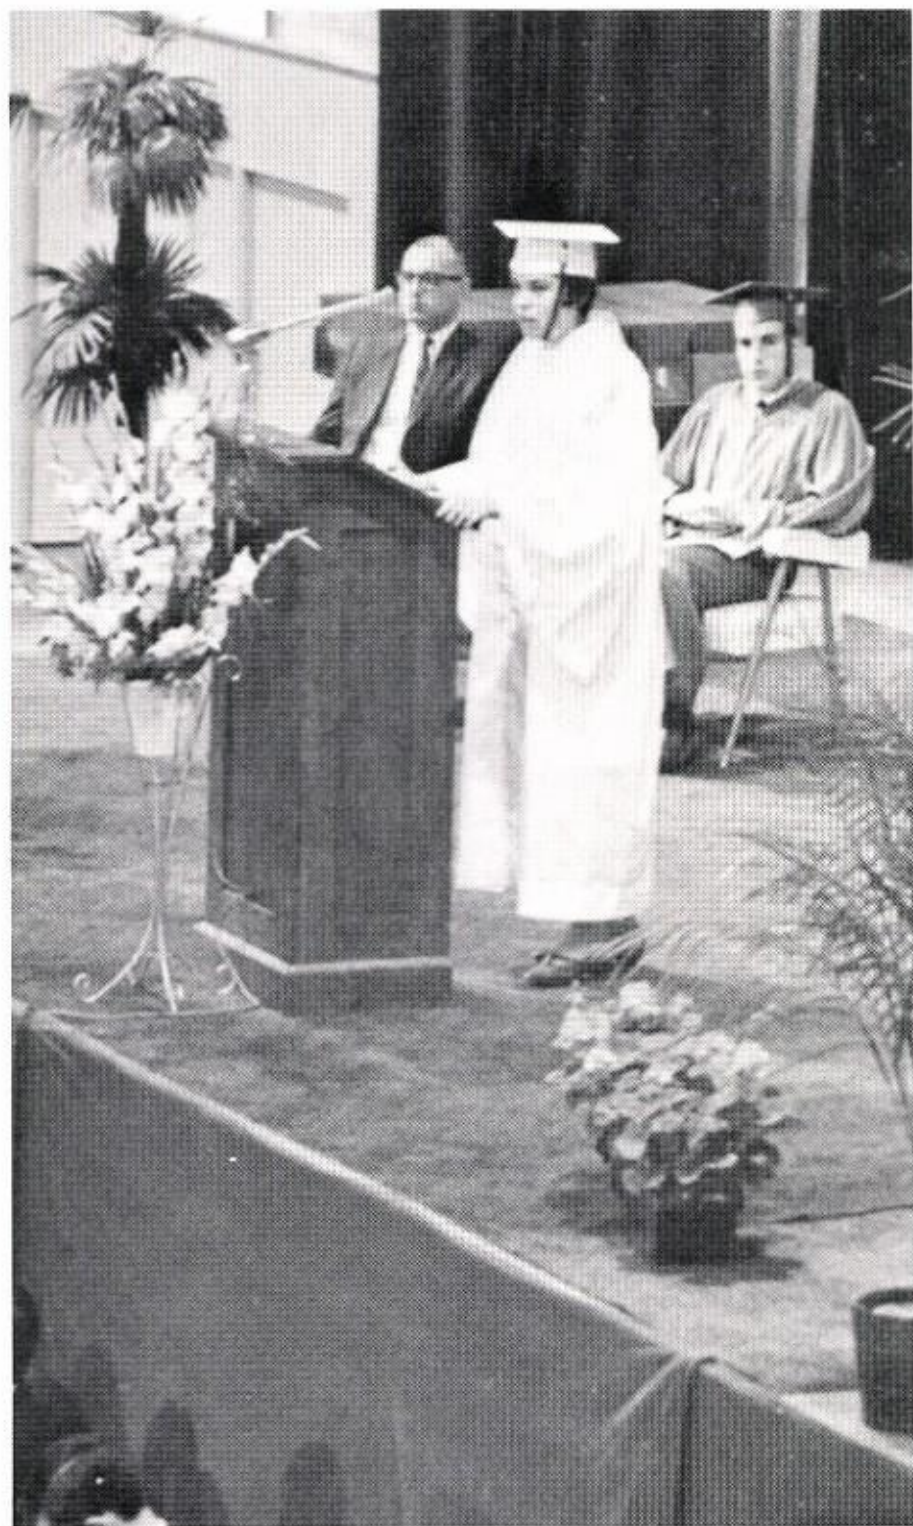

Representing the patriotic spirit of Central's student body, Leslie Evans and Robyn Wolfe place the symbolic wreaths at the World War I and World War II memorials.

Charles Hanson's address on the struggle of American soldiers for world freedom asked us to remember sacrifices given in love and courage. Special tribute was paid to Central graduates who have died fighting in our country's wars. Robyn Wolfe and Leslie Evens passed through two solemn rows of lettermen to place commemorative wreaths on the memorial markers. The inspirational program was concluded with the Pledge of Allegiance and the sounding of "Taps." Central students honored the war heroes with respect in the true fashion of Memorial Day.

The flags above the recessing choir represent the Centralites who served in both world wars. The dark stars symbolize those who fought and the light, those who gave their lives.

Elizabeth Ramlow, a 1966 Central graduate, presents her portion of the commencement speeches at the 90th June Commencement Exercises. The theme was "We Hold These Truths".

Mortarboards and long gowns add to the dignity and solemnity of graduation as the senior class members rise to receive their diplomas.

"We Hold These Truths"

The Mary E. Sawyer Auditorium was crowded with proud families and friends watching the senior class of 1966 as they slowly filed down the aisle to the sound of "Des Meistersingers" played by the Central band. Two o'clock Sunday, June 5, marked the highlight of three years of hard work for the seniors. This was an ending and a beginning—their high school graduation. Students were dressed in the traditional caps and gowns; the boys in blue and the girls in white, both with red and black tassels hanging from their mortarboards.

The theme for the 1966 graduation was "We hold these truths . . ." At Baccalaureate, the guest speaker helped students look into the future, as did the Commencement speakers, Elizabeth Ramlow, Pamela Voight, Terry Murphy, and William Corell. The senior members of choir, directed by Bill Hoel, sang "Song of Peace." Mr. Voss had the honor of presenting the four hundred twenty-seven diplomas to Central graduates. As the last strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" faded away, there was a realization that the past is merely memories.

Jo Ann,

Where have you been this year? you very seldom came to the Coach house to eat and you never came to inter-city meetings. But I keep forgetting you are only a Junior. Next year is your year to raise real "heck". Will have to drag each other, but I know your car? will lose.

JoAnn,

We didn't do as much this year together as we did last year but we made up for it ~~Fri.~~ ~~Sat.~~ Mon. & Tues. Remember when Patti and Carol rode around in my trunk. Don't forget Carol's friends and how they helped us Monday night. Hope to see you more this summer.

"For the last time,
I look upon this school,
And glance upon these faces
Behind me, on the side, in front . . .
The smiles . . . the frowns . . .
The instant reactions . . .
The minutes and seconds
That will never occur again . . ."

Barb

Jo Ann,
 Did you have fun in Satin Claw?
 to see you well a great bid
 the great work! Remember any how have fun (DIVE) this summer?
 See you next year in some of my classes!
 Konrad

Jo Ann,
 This year has been so good by very hard
 And we are in Central next gone times at going many weeks your will be very interesting And you will go a long way experiences with the knowledge
 And the world with your abilities.
 Good luck Always
 Paul Phillips

Jo Ann,
 I haven't seen you much this year except in study hall and in the halls. It's been a long year but it's also been fun. I wish you all the luck next year
 and in the future.
 You're really a sweet kid and I know some boy who matches you just perfectly! Have a lot of fun this summer and I hope to see you around.

Here's hoping we'll be in some classes together
 next year!

(or, if you prefer, Barbwire)

Jo Ann,
 This year has gone so fast.
 I didn't see much of you except in 3rd hr. S.W. until I got moved & Chem. until you left us. Have a great summer. I'll see you next year when we're seniors.

401 guess I'll ruin a clean page.
were you lucky to get out when you did? we miss you and we did have (fun?) in THAT class. Have fun when you're a big senior. Hope I see you around

Our year at Junior is over. Next year
we'll be first year seniors.
Have fun this summer. See you next year.

Have fun this summer
Laura

To Ann,

We missed you in orchestra, but you were lucky to get out of there when you did. Maybe next year we will be in a class together. Let's hope it is one greater than good ole orchestra. Take it easy this summer but don't spoil your fun.

Best Wishes,
Allyn Talg

Go Ann,
What a year - Taras and Guenther.
you were smart to get out of orchestra!! What a bore. Have fun this summer. See ya next year in Latin II if I make it!!

Chris

Go Ann,
This year sure has gone fast. Just think next year we'll be BIG SENIOR. It sure has gone fast. It's been fun sitting right behind you in S.H. (spiders + all)
Have fun this summer + be good

Pam Fahl

Go Ann,

Just think "67"

Seniors...! Cool

thought, HUH! I really hated chemistry. I think I was about the dumbest one in the entire class. It was a miracle that I even got half of my enough. And the final.

this summer + see ya next year. Kathy Harnish

Go Ann —

Two down & 1 to go... That good old 212 S.H. was just too exciting.

We should really stand if we want to talk. Hope to see ya this summer & next year. Have fun - no prob^{for} you. Be good. That may be a slight problem^b (not really) Good luck to a real sweet kid - Don't ever change -

Keep an eye on Dave this summer!!

I know you will
